

L'Allegrezza Club Reception.

Mrs. Robert Reynolds was at home in a thoroughly charming manner, on Thursday afternoon to the Allegrezza Club, and about one hundred invited guests.

The rooms of this pretty cottage, were lovely, and quaint, with tasteful furnishings, enhanced by a collection of handsome pot-plants, large palms, and a variety of cut flowers. The parlors, and sitting room, were aglow with La France roses, the library with chrysanthemums, while the dining room was pretty in contrast. The table formed a handsome center piece for the room with the pretty art square in which rested a mirror holding a tall cut glass vase filled with La France roses.

The guests upon their arrival were invited to the library where delicious hot coffee was served with french wafers by Miss Georgie Montague, who presided at the urn with much grace, and it was indeed a happy thought of the hostess to serve coffee to the guests upon their arrival, as nothing could have been relished more.

The receiving hours were from 2 to 4, and from 4 to 6.

Mrs. Reynolds who is always a ray of sunshine, and to whom it is such a pleasure to entertain, was in her happiest mood, and her receiving party including a number of Marshall's most interesting matrons, and lovely girls; the latter of which were dressed in white organdie gowns, and there is nothing adds to the success of a social entertainment, like a bevy of fair maidens, each eager to serve.

They were Misses Georgie Montague, Alice King, Ethlyne Jackson, Nellie Taylor, Nettie Kelley, Bulah Sharp and Miss Rima Reynolds.

Mesdames D. C. Gore, G. A. Wright, H. V. Geplart, Leslie Orest, John Reynolds and Mesdames Wm and Ed Sharp.

Miss Cora Adams and Mrs. John Reynolds entertained the company with some vocal numbers, while Mrs. G. A. Wright and Miss Rima Reynolds gave a number of instrumental selections, each of which came in for its share of applause.

Mrs. Reynolds received her guests in a gown of black dotted Swiss, worn over slip of black tulle, with black lace inserting and ribbon and yoke of escurial lace; the gown like the wearer, possessed an individuality all its own.

A delicious luncheon prepared with much care, was daintily served to 30 ladies at a time, in the pretty dining room, of which we have spoken, and of which much more will be said.

The luncheon, served by Schuetter, was as follows: chicken salad, saratoga chips, hot-beaten biscuit, olives, cranberry frappe and toasted marshmallows.

And the verdict was that this afternoon with Mrs. Reynolds was one of the most enjoyable the Allegrezza Club had ever had, when ever detail was marked with elegance and careful preparation.

Club Reception.

The Fancy Work Club which met with Miss Sue Newton on Saturday afternoon, scored another triumph in the success of Marshall's social functions. This popular club having decided recently, they would not entertain guests at their club meetings this year, excepting those members who did not entertain last year, made this evening with Miss Newton of more than usual interest to those present, who were not members of the club.

The weather was disagreeable, the clouds hung heavy and the rain fell without, yet within all was warmth and sunshine, where good cheer reigned supreme. Each guest adding her voice to the general orchestration of feminine chatter and the club entertainment, as they always are at this hospitable home, was a delightful one.

There is always much of interest to talk about at the clubs. The styles, that inexhaustible subject, the proper last for a ladies foot; the new fall hat and what to make and how to make it, are sweet morsels of interest to the female heart, that never grow old, to say nothing of the newest stitches and needle work, that are becoming more interesting as the Christmas time draws near.

Mesdames Gus Mayer and G. A. Wright were the musicians upon this occasion, and both ladies being fine interpreters of piano music. It was a great satisfaction to listen to them. Miss Sue was assisted by Mesdames Samuel Davis, C. D. Newton, W. H. Redman and little Nell Newton, and a lovely luncheon consisting of chicken salad, hot rotes, cold ham, pickles, coffee and the most delicious of cake was served in the dining room.

Dr. Roberts of Chester is very ill with typhoid fever. The following physicians held a consultation in his case Tuesday, Dr. J. F. Wheeler of Herndon, Fisher of Marshall and Dr. Neal of Sweet Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston Wheeler from Lamotte are guests of Dr. J. F. Wheeler of Herndon.

Halloween Social.

The V. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. gave a social on Monday evening at the home of Miss Clemmens on College Hill, that was very unique, and furnished much fun for those who participated.

The rooms were decorated with ropes of cranberries, popcorn and autumn leaves, lighted with pumpkins.

Six young ladies and gentlemen representing ghosts of departed souls, formed the reception committee and afforded great merriment.

Games and fortune telling of various kinds were indulged in and the evening closed with ghost stories that were most thrilling and were well told.

Refreshments of nuts, apples and popcorn were served. And the pleasure these young people took in these innocent amusements will last them until Halloween comes again.

A Luncheon.

A delightful social function of the week was an elegant luncheon given by Mrs. I. N. Seargeant at her home on East Arrow St., complimentary to her sister Mrs. B. F. Shepherd, of Colorado Springs. The weather was simply perfect and everything conspired to make it a day of rare pleasure for the entertained. The following ladies were of the party: Mesdames R. E. L. Smith, J. VanDyke, Geo. Lankford, James Wingfield, Fannie Montgomery, I. W. Scott, Willie M. Wood and J. P. Huston.

St. Agnes Gild.

The St. Agnes Gild, had its first meeting of the season on Monday afternoon, with Miss Frances Napton, when they reorganized, and made their plans for the winter's work. We wish to remind our readers that this gild is composed of school girls, who with Miss Frances Napton as their leader, organized a year ago and quite a nice little sum has been the result of their efforts during the year; they meet every Monday and do plain sewing for which they charge very reasonably. Any one having plain sewing to put out, would do well to give it to these young people, who should be encouraged.

MANY a dutiful daughter pays in pain for her mother's ignorance or perhaps neglect.

The mother suffered and she thinks her daughter must suffer also. This is true—only to a limited extent. No excessive pain is healthy. Every mother should inform herself of her own state and especially for the sake of her daughter. Write to Mrs. PINKHAM, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice about all matters concerning the ills of the feminine organs.

Many a young girl's beauty is wasted by unnecessary pain at time of menstruation, and many indulgent mothers with mistaken kindness permit their daughters to grow careless about physical health.

Mrs. CAROL M. LOTT, Dea Beaver, Mich., writes: "DEAR MR. PINKHAM—A year ago I suffered from profuse and irregular menstruation and leucorrhoea. My appetite was variable, stomach sour and bowels were not regular, and was subject to pains like cold during menstruation. I wrote you and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used two packages of Sauter's Wash. You can't imagine my relief. My courses are natural and general health improved."

Mrs. NANCY ADKINS, La Due, N. C., writes:

"DEAR MR. PINKHAM—I feel it my duty to tell you of the good your Vegetable Compound has done my daughter. She suffered until agony at time of menstruation before taking your medicine; but the Compound has relieved the pain, given her a better color, and she feels stronger, and has improved every way. I am very grateful to you for the benefit she has received. It is a great medicine for young girls."
